LYMAN TRUMBULL DEAD.

FORT CHARLES SURROUNDED BY ARMED COLORED MEN.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.

CHICAGO, June 25.—Ex-United States Senator Lyman Trumbull died at 3 o'clock this morning at his home in this city. He had been ill a long time, but rallied at intervals, causing hope that he might eventually recover. His last relapse, however, settled his fate in the mind of his physicians, and the end has been expected daily for the past week.

Trumbull was conscious just before he expired, but could scarcely recognize those about him. He was surrounded by his family and physicians. Death came like a quiet sleep. Trumbull's final illness was the result of cold contracted while attending the funeral of ex-Gov. Koerner.

Judge Trumbull was born at Golchette, New London County, Ct., in 1813. A career like that of Lyman Trumbull came to but few men. For more than twenty years he had a life of ceaseless activity, and it is his biography to say that in all these years his work has belonged to the nation. He has been a school-teacher, lawyer and judge. He has played his part in politics—on the stand, in the halls of Congress, in the delib... and as a non-combatant counsellor. In public life he has been one of those rare men who lead and teach political parties, yet are not bound by tradition or association to follow their party into its divergence from the lines laid down by their consciences.

In the beginning he was an anti-slavery Democrat. As a Republican he did what no immortal Lincoln and the man who founded the Republican party of today. His party, as he thought, departed from its true mission and followed a line of conscience which was not in order. Resolute he turned his back on the former associates and became a Democrat. In later years he parted company with that party. He took such a ground against the extension of the power of the United States courts that he became the bane of the Populists and in a sense, their counsellor. And all the time men of both parties respected him. His last appearance in a courtroom was made as counsel for the American Railroad Union, before the Supreme Court of Washington.

Only once since then has he appeared in public, and that appearance gave added point to the claims of the Populists upon him. He died at his home in Central Mount. Hill where he spoke at length upon the causes of discontent among the industrial classes. He spoke of the encroachments of the Federal courts upon the constitutional rights of the people, and emphasized his opinion that the power of the state over the people was the result of the power of privileged monopolies could only be had through the ballot. Judge Trumbull was twice married.

A SWINDLER DEAD.

Edward A. Trask Overcome by Consumption and Holmes' Fate.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.

CHICAGO, June 25.—Edward A. Trask, 50, was sentenced from Chicago to the Joliet penitentiary in 1892 for eighteen years for his gigantic real estate swindles, is dead. He succumbed to consumption Tuesday night. Trask was notorious for the daring of his ventures. After he had been sentenced and was serving his term, his methods were called to mind again by the sensational arrest of the murderer Holmes. Trask and Holmes had been partners in several games for the fleecing of wealthy strangers in Chicago under the pretense of conducting a real estate sale. After Holmes's execution in Philadelphia, a few weeks ago, Trask fell into deep melancholy and it is said he never again heard of his old comrade.

The reception is to take place Friday afternoon, and is intended to thoroughly represent the women of Canton and Stark county.

At 5 o'clock this evening the Cleveland coroner's committee for the ratification meeting Saturday decided upon the speakers for the occasion. The programme includes Congressman Taylor, Grosvenor, President Walcott, Hon. James H. Rollins, who was the candidate for the Republican nomination for Governor of Ohio, and one of the great orators of the West. The committee has also put ex-Gov. McKinley on the programme for an address, but the speaker of the meeting probably will attend the meeting, although he may respond to a call at his home later in the evening.

Trask this afternoon announced that a large delegation from Tuscarawas county will be on a special train to Canton July 8, at the time of the Ohio workers' Association and other labor unions from Massillon will call on July 1. Youngstown telegraphed that a special train there would join the Cleveland train.

Teller's Name Provokes an Outburst of Enthusiasm.

Peffer Disposed to Keep the Populist

Bland-Gossip.

(By ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE)

DENVER, June 25.—The State silver convention was called to order at 11:15 o'clock by I. N. Stevens, member of the National Silver Committee. There were 100 delegates. Prayer was offered by Rev. Thomas Uzzell, who asked a blessing "on this convention, on the coming silver convention at St. Louis, and especially on the convention that is to meet at Chicago."

Stevens congratulated the counties on sending to Denver delegates to a meeting "at which there was no pie-counter in sight." He expressed the hope that the Chicago convention would nominate a man whose position on silver was unequivocal and suggested Teller as the ideal candidate. The mention of Teller set the convention wild and the enthusiasm continued over the names of Sibley, Bland, Blackburn, Morgan and southern free-silver Senators.

The convention selected H. A. W. Teller as temporary chairman. After appointing committees, the convention took a recess until 2 o'clock. The convention will send Teller delegates to St. Louis.

At the afternoon session, Hon. Platt Wicks of Pueblo was chosen permanent chairman. The feature of the afternoon was an address by ex-Congressman Lafe Peffer, who paid a tribute to Senator Teller and his western followers who bolted the National Republican Convention. Delegates to the national silver convention, to be held at St. Louis, July 22, were chosen.

The convention adjourned with three cheers for Teller, after adopting the following resolution:

"First.—That the paramount issue at this time in the United States is undoubtedly the money question. It is between the gold standard, gold bonds and bank currency on the one side, and the bimetallic standard, no bonds and government currency on the other."

"Second.—That on this issue we declare ourselves to be in favor of a distinctly American financial system.

"We are unalterably opposed to the single gold standard and demand the immediate restoration of the bimetallic standard of gold and silver by the government independently of any foreign power of the unrestricted coining of both gold and silver into standard money, at the ratio of 16 to 1, and upon the standard of 1873, the silver coin to be a full legal tender equally with gold for all debts and dues, private and public."

"Third.—That to our senior Senator and fellow-citizen, the Hon. Henry M. Teller, we accord all honor and admiration for his personal worth and high character, and speak of him as thousands of us have known him to have been from his early vigorous manhood to his present ripened years. Throughout his long official life he has always been found in the discharge of his duties,做到 for the masses of the people. Especially do we honor him and his associate delegates for their heroic action in following their convictions in abandoning the late St. Louis convention, and in remonstrating with the Senate.

"Fourth.—That recognizing in Senator Teller the most eminent qualities and fitness for any public station in the gift of the people, we present him to the State convention as a candidate for the presidency to lead the great bimetallic host in the present emergency, because he is the most conspicuous advocate and defender of the faith in the entire republic."

"Fifth.—That should some advocate and friend of free and unlimited coinage of silver and gold, at the ratio of 16 to 1, other than Senator Teller, be nominated for President, we pledge our hearty and unanimous support to that candidate."

"Sixth.—That should Senator Teller not be nominated for President the people of this State, with unanimity and without a parallel in any constituency, will nominate him as a Senator of the United States from Colorado."

"Seventh.—That we therefore confidently leave to the people of the United States to leave in abeyance for the moment all other questions, however important, and even momentous they may be, until the time when, all for party ties and affiliations, and unite in one supreme effort to free themselves and their children from the domination of the money power—a power more destructive than any which has ever been faced by man, of any race or in any age."

"And upon the consummation of our desires and efforts, we invoke the gracious favor of divine providence."

"Eighth.—That the foregoing is submitted to you in the language of the great Lincoln, that 'this government of the people, by the people, for the people, shall not perish from the face of the earth.'

TELLER'S FRIENDS ENCOURAGED.

DENVER (Colo.), June 25.—The friends of Senator Teller who have been advocating his candidacy on a silver-ticket for President of the United States and silver standard now have the satisfaction to see the boom started at St. Louis immediately after the bolt of the Western delegates has had in the West and South. It is announced that Teller's name will be positively submitted to the Chicago convention, and is expected to be a candidate when he will show on the initial ballot will stimulate the convention to him.

Teller's nomination will come from the South, where it is claimed, he is particularly strong, not only on account of his personal popularity, but also because of his vote against the Force Bill, and his well-known opposition to more radical actions of the Republican party on the tariff question.

The friends of Teller say that the announcement of his name is assured for him if the Democrats make him their candidate, and that this would not be possible should a straightforward Democrat be chosen.

HARTMAN'S BACK TURNED.

SALT LAKE CITY, June 25.—A special of the "Daily Tribune" from Butte says that the greatest ovation ever accorded a citizen of Montana was that given Congressmen Hartman, who arrived from St. Louis today. He was at the station by thousands of people and the crowd cheered and whistled and when he entered a carriage, the horses were unhitched and a rope attached to the vehicle. Several hundred enthusiastic silver men from all parties pulled the carriage a mile up the hill to the city. The city was wild. Buildings were decorated and people with flags and parades in the city all day. This evening Hartman addressed 5000 people and explained in detail the St. Louis bolt. He said he had turned his back on the national Republican organization until it again represented the people.

A ZEPHYR FROM PEFFER.

WASHINGTON, June 25.—Senator Peffer before leaving home for home today expressed the opinion that Teller would not be nominated by the Democrats, and declared that the Populists should nominate an independent ticket.

Before starting for home Peffer said, concerning the Populist attitude on the Presidential question:

"The recent pronouncement of a Populist gentleman at St. Louis, urging the Democratic convention to nominate Mr. Teller, was, in my judgment, an impertinence, and it was treacherous. I have often attended the meetings of the Populist party as a whole."

At the conclusion of the speech free-silver resolutions were introduced, and William P. St. John was delegated to go to the Democratic and Populist conventions to press them upon the delegates. A call for a silver convention in St. Louis, June 25, to nominate or endorse a Presidential candidate, was read, closing the meeting.

is national, while "gold-buggery" is sectional.

"You are driving us to the alternative of repudiation or confederation," he declared. "This is why I am glad to come here and carry the war into Africa, for this is the head center of the devilment. That is why I come to New York with a mob of Wall street, where you are surrounded by millions, where you belong to them as slaves, and ask you to rise in your majesty and throw off this yoke. But I tell you right now we are not calculating on you holding out. But we do not expect your holding out, and planning to beat you at the polls in six months."

He compared the wealth of the East with that of the West and South, and added: "The South and West cultivate cotton and wheat. The eastern chief article of commerce is silver."

He said the millions in New York coffers had been stolen from the rank and file; that the money was congested in the coffers of Wall street, and that that was why the men of the South and West complained.

At the conclusion of the speech free-silver resolutions were introduced, and William P. St. John was delegated to go to the Democratic and Populist conventions to press them upon the delegates. A call for a silver convention in St. Louis, June 25, to nominate or endorse a Presidential candidate, was read, closing the meeting.

NORTH CAROLINA DEMOCRATS.

Cyrus E. Watson of Forsyth for Governor-Free Silver.

(By ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE)

RALEIGH (N. C.) June 25.—The Democratic State Convention was called to order by State Chairman Paul Theodore Klutz was chosen temporary chairman and made a speech.

The convention took a recess until 2:30 o'clock.

When the convention reassembled in the afternoon there was a long wait on the platform for the arrival of labor which the Populist party regarded as vital. I had hoped that there might be some amalgamation of Democrats, Populists, silver men and all others in a new declaration of principles, and, if not, to be held in the time for that has gone by and all the time for that is for the Populist party to maintain its integrity by nominating its own candidate on its own platform.

"Concerning the Populist candidates, I personally favor the nomination of George H. W. Peffer, and for a place on the ticket, and I have considered Nugent of Texas as the strongest man for second place, up to the time of his death. Under the circumstances Tom Watson of Georgia, the best available man, then combines the West and the South in two sections to which we look for results."

"While the Democratic convention doubtless will be for free silver, yet it will not be expressive of those other conditions which the Populist ticket represents of the Democratic Presidential ticket, even though the nominee is for free silver and the platform contains a positive free-silver declaration. I regard the integrity and perpetuity of the Populist party as a whole, and I have no idea that the plan of reforms we have espoused. The money question is but one of these."

"The changes are very good. I think the Democrats will carry the country particularly in the West. Why? Partly because the Republican ticket and platform is weak. The mention of Teller set the convention wild and the enthusiasm continued over the names of Sibley, Bland, Blackburn, Morgan and southern free-silver Senators.

The convention selected H. A. W. Teller as temporary chairman. After appointing committees, the convention took a recess until 2 o'clock. The convention will send Teller delegates to St. Louis.

when the obligations of the government expressly state on their face, or the law which they were made, provides that they are payable in coin, which obliges the government to pay in gold or silver coin at the convenience of the government, and not at the option of the holder of the obligations."

The only difficulty in the convention arose over the selection of a gold-standard Democrat as a delegate to Chicago. The delegate received an overwhelming majority in his district caucus, but a minority report was brought based on the resolution adopted at the fair's caucus last night to the effect that no delegate from the state of Illinois would be allowed to go from this convention or from any district.

Speeches that threatened a breakaway on both sides, but the cause of the conservative element prevailed, and the gold-standard man was sent rather than that break into the right of each district to name its own delegates.

The fact that the unit rule will prevail in all matters coming up at Chicago gives any fear of a break by the free-silver delegates at the national convention.

TOOK NUMEROUS BALLOONS.

SANFORD (Fla.) June 25.—The Second Congress District Convention nominated Judge W. R. Davis (silverite) as Democratic candidate for Congress on the one hundred and fifty-second ballot.

The convention adopted a resolution favoring free silver at 16 to 1, independent of any other nation.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 25.—Champion Jim Corbett climbed down last night from his pedestal of pugilistic greatness and, at the same time, husky Tom Sharkey, who was eight months ago a mere bluejacket, mounted to the top notch in the sporting calendar.

Ten thousand people saw the sailor give and take blows with Corbett for twelve minutes, and at the end of the fight they saw an undefeated world's champion hanging around his opponent's neck, weak, listless, panting and leaning against the ropes to prevent himself from falling. As it was, the fight was declared a draw. Had it lasted a few rounds more there might have been a different story to tell—a story that would make pugilistic history. There are those in San Francisco today—and their number is legion—who say that twelve more minutes of fighting last night would have made a new world's champion.

Corbett went into the ring smiling and confident, but out of it trembling and crestfallen. He had not only failed to stop the sailor in four rounds, as he and his thousands of admirers confidently expected he would, but he narrowly escaped being whipped man. For round after round the champion had been unable to score a hit on the sailor to the victory he could not win. And when he went to his corner for the last time, the crestfallen world-beater suffered the ignominy of having the sailor challenge him to a finish fight for the world's championship. Corbett, in the hope of receiving his laurels, accepted.

In all fairness to Corbett it is to be said that he did not put up the fight last night his admirers expected. Possibly this shortcoming was due to overconfidence; probably Tom Sharkey himself was the cause of it. Sharkey is a wonderful fighter. Corbett is magnanimous enough to declare that the sailor is the best wrestler he ever met and Corbett ought to know, for he felt the strength of the sailor's arms many times in those twelve rounds. The sailor fought thick and fast on the champion's head. Twice the sailor tripped him to the floor. Twice he fought him to the ropes, while Corbett, in return, failed to deliver the looked-for knockout blow.

The surprising feature of last night's doings was not so much that Corbett failed to win, as the narrowness with which he escaped defeat. For viewed from whatever side one may look at it, Corbett had the advantage. In stature he was taller than his opponent. His superior reach enabled him to land with effect.

Corbett was an easy winner, the tallest said, while the sailor was the longest kind of a long shot. He was against such odds that Tom Sharkey contended, and in consequence his performance was the more noteworthy. Corbett made a disappointing fight. A prominent sporting writer says it was difficult to recognize the man who faced Sharkey as the man who knocked out Sullivan and Michael.

In discussing the fight, Corbett said: "Please call it a wrestling match. There was not one round of fighting done in the four. Every time I led or landed on Tom Sharkey he clinched with me and I couldn't get in blows. The referee was unable to pull him away. You noticed that the referee did all the work on Sharkey, endeavoring to separate us. While I held both hands free and was able to beat him. He simply ignored Sharkey from the start to finish, and there was no legitimate fight in it. I call it a hugging match."

Here is Sharkey's version. "Well, I fought him as best I knew. He up- percut, and every time we were separated, which I believe, was a foul. At all events, I did not attempt to scratch until I realized that I was getting the worst of it. Corbett hung on my shoulders every time we clinched and it was he, not I, who was unwilling to break away. I fought him from start to finish, and fought fair to protect my own reputation and the money of my friends, and I leave it to the public to decide who had the best of it."

Sharkey has challenged Corbett to meet him in a finish fight for $10,000 a side. Corbett says he has no desire to go east soon, but will fight the sailor if he will secure backing at once.

WILL CHALLENGE ALL COMERS.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 25.—James J. Corbett has answered Sharkey's verbal challenge for a fight to a finish, made at the ringside after last night's contest, by himself announcing his intention to issue a challenge to all comers. Fitzsimmons preferred. If the latter does not accept within two weeks, Corbett says he will make arrangements for a fight with Sharkey to take place on agreed territory, preferably in Mexico.

Sharkey is the idol of the sporting world, and that the most extravagant predictions as to his future are made. He bears his honors modestly, but reiterates his desire to meet Corbett in a longer battle. He received a challenge from another boxer, but, however, that he will make no other plans than his meeting with Corbett has been arranged. The only marks of punishment which Sharkey bears is a black eye acquired during a breakdown in an agreement with Corbett, Sharkey says.

"Of course, Corbett would fight differently in a fight to a finish. He would not do any fighting, but a neither would I. I am not the man to do many things I did last night, and I am not sure when I went to hit. I believe I can put Corbett out in ten rounds. Anyway I want him to fight me for my bones."

Corbett, in an interview today, claimed he was not badly punished, saying that his only marks were acquired when he fell on the floor after a clinch. Corbett said, speaking of last night, he had made the mistake in appealing with Sharkey. "If I were to fight another four rounds with him I would not clinch. I would stay away and do only open fighting. It was his wrestling that saved me, and in the fourth round I forced him to the ropes. I was quite exhausted. In throwing my science away and fighting Sharkey at his own game, I weakened myself. I should have stayed away and outlived my own work. I would not have put him out, but on the other hand, I would not have given him a chance to weaken me, thereby giving the impression that he is a great fighter, when he is ignorant of the rudiments of boxing."

Fitzsimmons will accept his challenge, as he believes Fitzsimmons is afraid to meet him, so Sharkey will be the first man to be served with a fight for the championship honors.

"PARSON'S" HEAVY PLUNGE. CHICAGO, June 25.—"Parson" Davies, recently posted $1000 as an earnest expression of his willingness to match Creedon against Sharkey for $2000 a side in a finish fight. If Sharkey does not desire a finish fight, Davies will back Choynski to stop Sharkey in eight rounds. He also offers to back Choynski against Corbett, the latter to stop Choynski in eight rounds, the entire gate receipts to go to the winner.

SHARKEY ON THE STAGE.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 25.—Tom Sharkey will be the main feature of other celebrated pugilists, by some of the stage. Tomorrow night he will appear at the Alcazar Theater in "The Cross Roads of Life." Sharkey will not be an actor, but will spar four rounds, every night during the week with Danie Noyes.

Joe Choynski, Corbett's dearest enemy, is very enthusiastic in his denunciation of the champion. He calls Corbett a cur and a quitter, and says that Sharkey should have been given the champion. Choynski will meet the right Corbett at any time or place for money or glory. He will also meet Sharkey in a finish fight or a limited round contest.

Last night's affair had greatly excited the Civic Federation, some of whose members were present. The Civic Federation will present such contests in the future, if there be a law to stop them.

THE 'VARSITY RACE.'

Unfavorable Weather is Predicted. Cornell Favorite in the Betting. (BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE)

POUGHKEEPSIE (N. Y.), June 25.—In the gloomy, leaden skies of tonight there is little encouragement for tomorrow's boat race, and the weather may well probably be an unfavorable day. A cold, nasty, southeast wind made overcoats and raincoats necessary.

Entries for the regatta closed tonight, and will be posted tomorrow. The crew will draw places for July 4. The start is set for 5:30 o'clock. The expectations tonight are that it will be a hard and stubbornly-fought contest.

The Regatta Committee has appointed Herbert F. Howland the official referee. Cornell at the finish to succeed Harry F. Vail, who abdicated. All 'varsity crews were out on the river this afternoon for practice. The crimson men seemed very well pleased with their general work. Capt. Ballard and the men were doing beautiful rowing, and the blades dipped as if by machinery.

Ballard felt elated over the prospect of the Cambridge men in tomorrow's contest.

Columbian's senior eight practiced in the bay above their boathouse. Richards held the pistol and offered suggestions as to catching the water. Richards would express no opinion regarding Columbian's chances. He talked of the condition of the crew, and appears satisfied, however, that he has placed his hopes high on the senior white and blue. He remarked a few days before the freshman race that he would not play a cent on the youngers, but would lay all his money on the senior varsity crew.

The Britannia and Santanita were out on the river this afternoon for the latter's twenty-fifth anniversary, conveying their wishes for the success of the New Haven men.

back over the three-quarters. The time for the first half was 354, and the stroke for the final minute was 35, after which it was dropped to 35. The Yale men came out at 11 o'clock and went to Temple Island, and back in short stretches. Later they were coached on quick starts. The pair-oar work was done in the early part of the race.

The men are feeling in perfect condition. The latest amusement of the Americans is roach fishing, close to the ground. The new oars are expected to arrive from Princeton on Saturday. Capt. Treadway has forbidden the Yale men to play tennis until after the race, for fear of strains.

"Bob" Cook seemed satisfied with this morning's work. New College was out during the morning, but did not go over the course, the men remaining at the ground with short stretches at a 27 stroke. The Leander crew rowed to Hambleton Lock in one stretch at a 21 stroke, and back to their boathouse in stretches. Capt. Treadway and the Yale men were the first to wake up.

Choynski and Creedon met in a six-round bout at Tattersall's over a year ago, in which the former had considerably the best of the argument. Creedon, however, was in the best condition at the time, and does not hesitate to say he can defeat Joe, and Col. Hopkins thinks likewise.

J. Boller Has a Collar-bone Broken and Sanger is Hurt. (BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE)

PEORIA (Ill.), June 25.—Ten thousand people assembled at Lakeview Park this afternoon to witness the first day's races of the bicycle tournament. The track was in excellent condition, but a high wind prevented fast time being made.

In the two-mile handicap race there was a collision and several riders went down. J. Boller had his collar-bone broken in another race. Sanger was slightly injured. H. C. Wood of Chicago went to the half-mile handicap, second of sec., but the attempt was a failure due to the wind.

The track record was broken by Harry Clark, making the mile in 2:13 5-15. Following are the results: Professional two-mile handicap: J. F. Grieble won; W. G. Martin second; F. H. Allen third; time 4:31.

Professional half-mile open: W. Sanger won, Otto Ziegler second, Arthur Gardiner third; time 1:03 1-5.

SEEKING TO EVADE THE ISSUE.

"Our friends the enemy" are making the most strenuous efforts possible to evade the real issue of the coming Presidential election. They are seeking to subordinate the tariff question to that of free-silver coinage, and they profess to believe that the tariff issue is "settled" for some years to come, and that, as Alford said in his speech before the Illinois Democratic Convention, "it is no longer worth while to discuss the theories of a tariff."

This is a false contention. Our opponents know it to be false. They know that the tariff is more directly and prominently an issue at the present time than it has ever been, before, in the history of this country. They know that the great popularity of William McKinley is due, primarily, to his identification with the principle of tariff protection. And they know, also, that, if the Republican ticket is successful at the coming election, tariff revision will be the first important work to be undertaken after McKinley's inauguration.

CONFIDENCE STRENGTHENED.

Henry Clews, in his financial review for June 20, notes an improved tone of affairs in the stock market because of the decided stand taken for sound money in the Republican national platform. He declares that this improved feeling foreshadows "the revival of confidence that may be expected from the victory of the cause of sound money at the St. Louis convention." The agreement to incorporate in the Republican platform an explicit declaration against free-silver coinage and in favor of the maintenance of the present status was quickly responded to by London with large orders for our stocks. "This gave the keynote to the local market," says Mr. Clews, "and produced a rise in prices of 2½ to 5 per cent." As to the probable after-effects, Mr. Clews adds:

It was very generally feared that both parties would adopt a "straddling" policy on the silver question; and, consequently, the large operators, who give direction to the course of the market, were unprepared for the free and sustained buying operations, which the result now warrants. Instead, therefore, of a great sensational rise that would discount the whole effect of the new situation within a week, we seem more likely to have a steady upward movement, extending over the summer months. This is the safer course for matters to take; as operations will then be supported by the gradually extending effects of the restoration of business in all departments, and will be justified by constantly accumulating encouragements.

We have now entered upon a new situation. A great and seriously possible danger has been escaped. The determination of the monetary policy of the country has been placed, certainly for four years, in the hands of a party unalterably committed to the maintenance of the money standard common to the great commercial nations. That in years will be devoted to the heresies of the silverites, and to discredit their leaders. It will be employed in a reconstruction of our currency system, which, if judiciously done, will supply the West and the South with a money which will better serve their currency requirements than the debased coin after which they have been insanely hankering. Discussion and legislation will go hand in hand towards giving us sound money in the full measure required; and it is to be hoped that our banking arrangements will be so extended as to afford to those sections credit accommodations which they vitally need, but have not, so far, received. Another tendency making for the extinction of the silver agitation will be the moral effect of the revival of confidence and of business in consequence of the subjugation of the silver agitation. This will constitute an argument from fact, and experience which will work a silent but great abatement of the violence of the silver excitement, and of its twin fanaticism, populism. And further, the revival of business and of national prosperity, growing out of the recovery of confidence, will prove an effective means of tempering the sectional discontents which have helped to intensify the geographical hostilities which have been associated with silverism."

THE PLAIN TRUTH.

On the subject of "Bogus Bimetallism" the Chicago Tribune comments in this vigorous manner:

"Free coinage, which the seceders in their address miscall 'bimetallism,' would destroy half the value of the silver and paper money of the country. It would violate millions of contracts.

They recognize the fact that protection must be restored and that with its restoration will come a return of industrial and commercial prosperity.

The restoration of prosperity will be a long step toward the settlement of the financial question; for our financial troubles are due, in chief part, to the free-trade victory of 1892. When the verdict of that election has been reversed, we shall be at the threshold of a new and better era.

"But free coinage, which the silver secessionists falsely call 'bimetallism,' would give our institutions a terrible shock. Popular government has worked well because the mass of the people have always been honest, and have outvoted dishonest grecobreakers, flatists and free silverites.

"If, however, a majority of the voters should vote that their 'highest hope and aspiration' was partial repudiation of public and private debts, our institutions would fall as much below as our money."

The opinion is expressed by the Kansas City Star that the tariff legislation will be possible under the McKinley administration, owing to the opposition of the free-coinage Senators.

It says that Republican success "will mean the maintenance of the existing standard of values, with such legislation as shall relieve the national treasury of its embarrassments in maintaining the credit of the government." The veracity of the Kansas City Star is surprising. Does it suppose that the "silver Senators" would permit any legislation to relieve the national treasury of its embarrassments if they could prevent it? They will, if possible, block any and all remedial legislation unless their regime of ruin is acceded to. Hence, so long as the silverites retain the balance of power in the Senate, practical legislation of any kind will be accomplished only with great difficulty.

"As Teller and his succeeding band," says the Cincinnati Times-Star, "fled down the aisles and out the doors of the convention, the delegates rose and sang: 'The Red, White and Blue' in a deafening chorus that lasted for several minutes. Whether the secessionists sang: 'The Bonnie Blue Flag' is not stated, but those were their colors, just the same." Yes, on a silver ground, and, although the bolters were not in a singing humor just at that period, the song they would have sung would have been: "Just tell them that you saw us" while the tears went a-courin' down their bolted shirt bosoms.

"William C. Whitney," says the Chicago Inter Ocean, "resigned his chances for seasickness and accepted the certainty of being made very sick at Chicago in July. Dr. Cleveland made him believe that it was his solemn imperative duty to throw up his voyage to Europe and try to keep down the promised dose at Chicago. Dr. Cleveland himself will fish." To which may be added: The convention will cut bait, and the party get ashore.

As Teller cast one long, last lingering look at the Republican convention, he may possibly have recalled to mind the words in "Paradise Lost":

"So, farewell, hope, and, with hope, farewell fear."

Farwell, remorse: All good to me is lost."

"The Rocky Mountains in labor," observes the Chicago Tribune, "have brought forth only a few free-silver mice." Yes, and not very large specimens of their kind, at that.

The motto adopted by the favorite sons is: "Man wants but little here below." They got that little at St. Louis, and they got it awful quick, too."

Excepting the members of the City Council, the pound-keeper is the most unpopular man in town just now.

The free-silverite crowd is a great deal more noisy than it is numerous.

"Uneasy lies the head that seeks a (silver) crown."

Santa Ana is said to be making a success of its waterworks under municipal ownership.

Real estate agents have gained a second substantial victory in the refusal of one of the Superior Judges to grant a new trial in the suit of one agent against an owner for commission upon a $3,000 Broadway real estate deal.

In view of the disposition of the modern woman to break away from the matrimonial pledge to "love, honor and obey" it might be possible to bring about a compromise on the words "love and honor or obey," which would seem to meet the requirements of the times.

The agreement of the pastors of the evangelical churches of San Bernardino to hold union meetings during the summer, at which the pastors will preside in succession, affords an excellent opportunity for making a composite picture of theology, bringing all about with a halo of indistinct doctrines.

It will undoubtedly be Doleful news for Grover Cleveland and other friends of Queen Lili that the brother of the President of the Hawaiian Republic is proposed for the legislature from Riverside. Even so slight a bond between this country and the sister republic of the sea will tend to send shivers upon Grover's massive spine.

It is suggested to Southern California free silver enthusiasts that they advocate the coinage by the government of glass dollars. Properly made, glass for this purpose would be enduring and cleanly, and, according to the theorists, if it bore the government's stamp, it would be worth 100 cents on the dollar.

The Supreme Court has granted a rehearing in bank in the mandamus proceedings of T. A. Lewis against the State Controller, to enforce the payment of an annual salary of $2000 for services as expert of the State Board of Examiners. This proceeding would seem to indicate that there is much more in the case than was first supposed by that august body.

Now that the Pasadena man has found himself mistaken as to the identity of the person he saw up in Kern county, the search for Murderer Dunn may continue in various portions of the United States and Canada. The Times today gives a graphic story of how the Sheriff's posse, including a reporter of this paper, followed the Kern county clew until it was found to be erroneous. But there are others.

An instance of the superiority of the new army rifle with its small, hard metal bullet was noted at the target practice of infantry at San Diego recently. Last year this practice was carried on at the same rifle butts as the practice this year, but with the old style rifle and lead bullets. The riflemen this year found imbedded behind the butts leaden bullet which had been partially flattened, fired the year before, and half way through this bullet had passed one of the new hardened bullets, cutting a clean hole through the lead, after passing through the thick bullet. The hardened bullet was not mutilated in the slightest.

Arizona's finances are in a deplorable condition; her warrants are selling at little more than 50 cents on the dollar and an eastern bank has refused to purchase her bonds after putting up a forfeit of $10,000. The hard times have intensified the strife for public office, and the country seems to be in the throes of a financial revolution. Arizona's citizens should open their eyes to the industrial situation and look elsewhere than to free silver for speedy and permanent relief. That Territory is rich in undeveloped resources, and the energy that is being expended in a scramble for office and the fostering of local jealousies, would better be directed to public and private improvement. Stability and progress lie in this direction.

Judge York's order in the new San Gabriel River water contest, pending litigation, is of importance to the settlers and the public generally. The court fixes the temporary rights of the contestants in such manner that no serious loss may ensue to consumers pending a long legal contest. The plaintiff company claims 800 inches of undiminished flow, as against all other consumers. After carefully looking into the question of rights the court deals as liberally with the company as circumstances seem to warrant, and then requires the incorporation to give a bond in the sum of $10,000 to cover the expressed terms. This bond must be filed within five days and the company is required to indicate its willingness to abide by the judicial ruling. Southern California's prosperity depends too largely upon water for irrigation to permit persistent litigation to blight the future of communities and induce financial ruin. During the determination of legal questions the accustomed uses of water should not be interrupted. The order of the court has the object in view, and has invoked the necessary power to enforce it.

Quarreling Brothers-in-Law. There was a lively scrap on Spring street at 3:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Charles P. Arnold, a barber, met his brother, W. H. Arnold, and his wife, and they got into a fit of terms, and Arnold tried to straighten the matter out. Welch grew angry and called Arnold a foul name. Then there was an interchange of blows, which ended in the arrest of both men by Officer Kille. The two soon furnished the needed $10 bail.

A BOLD SCHEME.

Daring Attempt to Rob the First National Bank.

A Long Tunnel Dug to the Treasure Vault.

The Great Labor of the Would-be Robbers Was Made Useless by Opportunity Discovery—Missed a Half-million Dollars.

A bold, but unsuccessful attempt to rob the First National Bank of this city by means of an underground tunnel driven through the earth to a point underneath the great bank vaults has been brought to light.

The affair is one of the most remarkable in the history of crime in California, involving as it does an effort to carry off $500,000 worth of gold, silver and currency.

As the men proceeded further and further into the earth, the air grew so foul they could scarcely work. A bold

the men timbered it as they went along.

They placed a board at each side of the tunnel, at frequent intervals, with cross braces. Resting on these were longer boards, which supported the roof of the tunnel. Wedges were used to strengthen the whole.

It was work conducted under difficult circumstances.

The burrow is so small that it was hard to work, with the men in a small one cannot turn around in it. The men had to lie flat while they delved in the ground ahead of them, pushing the dirt back as they worked like moles. When they had accumulated a quantity they piled it on a piece of board which was fastened to the end of the tunnel. A rope was fastened to the loose earth and was drawn out by means of an improvised windlass, which was kept thoroughly oiled and made no noise.

When the men had to turn around in their hole, they found their work had only just begun. They were not in the treasury, but only in the vault underneath.

The present treasure vaults of the First National Bank were built under the personal supervision of President M. Elliott six years ago.

When the tunnel was made, a foundation of cement was put in. On top of this had been built a brick vault, with operations punched a hole through the cement floor of the vault. This they enlarged, and at last had a hole ample large enough to admit the passage of a man's body. Then, at last, they crawled up into the bank.

A DISAPPOINTMENT.

When the thieves crawled through their hole, they found their work had only just begun. They were not in the treasury, but only in the vault underneath.

The First National Bank was built under the personal supervision of President M. Elliott six years ago.

When the tunnel was made, a foundation of cement was put in. On top of this had been built a brick vault, with leaves the city. Two noted crooks named Ryerson and Brown Matheny were members of this gang.

The authorities felt convinced that the men had begun active operations in some big enterprise. Accordingly they visited every bank and large jeweler's shop in the city, warned the officials, and thoroughly searched the vaults, cellars, and entire premises, but all to no avail. This was done before Chief Glass went east in May. The detectives worked on the matter all the time he was away, and on his return Chief Glass and Ryerson went to

A GOOD CLEAVER.

On June 17 the Chief had discovered a cleaver. He sent Detectives Auble and Bradish to the saloon at No. 112 Commercial street, and told them to make a thorough search. They visited the place in the guise of health inspectors. They looked through the main room of the place, then examined the little steps that led through the row of private rooms back of the saloon. At last they found a closet, which was tightly locked. They succeeded in effecting an entrance. All looked unsuccessfully within. At once minute search was made, but nothing was found.

When the men had to turn around in their hole, they found their work had only just begun. They were not in the treasury, but only in the vault underneath.

When the tunnel was made, a foundation of cement was put in. On top of this had been built a brick vault, with of these old books over the hole, which is probably the reason nothing looked when the bank employee glanced in.

Fred W. Jones, the man who ran the Anaheim Music Hall, has not been seen since Sunday, June 14. The last work on the tunnel was done, it is believed, on June 13. John Smith, the man who runs the Anaheim brewery, which owns the saloon, says Smith left because of the pressure of his debts. Whether this is the right explanation or not is questionable.

MATHENY'S RECORD.

Brown Matheny, one of the men who is implicated in the attempted robbery, was arrested by the police on suspicion soon after the fiesta. Matheny was accompanied by a crook named Ryerson and two others.

Ryerson and another one of the party remained together, while the others roomed alone in different parts of the city.

The police had been watching them for some time, and had examined their rooms and found things which led them to believe the men contemplated "doing a job" in the city.

One morning two of the detectives were searching one of the men's rooms when he suddenly returned for his pistol. They had been watching him when he had left his pistol. The men were not so far apart that it was necessary to arrest him and the other, although the police had no specific charge against them. They were both sent at police headquarters, and were detained for two days and "shown up" at each roll-call.

Finally they were released early in the morning and told to leave town. Matheny was seen on the street in this city a few days after his release, and the police have kept close watch on all of them.

CONSERVATIVE RAILROADING.

Henry Villard Said to Be Engineering Another Scheme.

An Associated Press dispatch from Kansas City says President Ripley of the Santa Fe Railway system left for Chicago after the transaction of several items of business in Kansas City. President Ripley said: "There will be no one unnecessary wheel turned from now on until after the election. So far as the Santa Fe Railroad is concerned, the answer will be one unnecessarily turned."

ST. LOUIS AND SAN FRANCISCO.

NEW YORK, June 26.—The forenoon sale of the San Francisco and St. Louis Railroad at St. Louis on the 27th inst., will be attended by the purchasing committee empowered by the reorganization interests to bid in the property. The minimum price is placed at $1,250,000.

LATEST VILLARD SCHEME.

CHICAGO, June 25.—The Evening Post has a sensational piece of railway news today to the effect that Henry Villard, backed by European capitalists, has about completed a deal which will give them a through line from the Atlantic to the Pacific seaboard. The idea of the syndicate is to buy the Northern Pacific Road, then the Baltimore and Ohio, at receivers sale.

It is said the syndicate has already practically obtained control of the Chicago and Great Western Road, the connecting link between the Baltimore and Ohio and Northern Pacific. It is also said the apparent antagonist of the Northern Pacific and Villard was only assumed, and now when the scheme is all but accomplished, a reconciliation has taken place.

AND DYNAMITE.

At the southeast corner of the saloon is an area, with a saloon on the west, the rear of the saloon on the east and a high brick wall on the south. A ladder leans against the wall of the saloon. It is believed that as a general thing the bank thieves came over the roof of the building and dug upon the high brick wall, on which their footprints are plainly visible, climbed down the ladder and entered the cellar through which they gained access to the cellar, and do not go up again.

They got on the track of one man, James K. Stevens, and dogged his footprints for twenty-four hours, capturing him at last on a country road, outside the city.

As for Brown Matheny and the others, they escaped from the city, but there are excellent hopes they will be captured yet. They played for a great stake. If they had won, they would do big rich men, able to flee from America and live in luxury.

At the southeast corner of the saloon is an area, with a saloon on the west, the rear of the saloon on the east and a high brick wall on the south. A ladder leans against the wall of the saloon. It is believed that as a general thing the bank thieves came over the roof of the building and dug upon the high brick wall, on which their footprints are plainly visible, climbed down the ladder and entered the cellar through which they gained access to the cellar, and do not go up again.

In the cellar was a quantity of giant powder, in a tub, covered with water. There were several boxes of dynamite cartridges, a package of fuses and other things of like nature, quite enough to send the whole bank sky-high. They evidently intended to use both this and the hydraulic jack to break their way into the money vaults. A number of gun-drills were intended for this work, were found in the tunnel, but the finer burglars' tools had not yet been taken to the place.

The detectives had discovered and examined the whole tunnel before the bank officials came to inspect it. Mr. Elliott himself made a thorough examination of the vault something over two weeks ago. He then tapped on every part of the floor, but the cement was so thick that he had not the tunnel completed to that point and the underground chambers scraped out, he could not have discovered the fact, he did not have some of the bank clerks make another examination without results. Last Saturday morning the police advised Mr. Elliott of the whole enterprise, and when he saw the work which had been done, he was greatly pleased. Since he had afforded the police every opportunity to work up the case.

EXPLORING THE TUNNEL.

A Times reporter visited the cellar of the Commercial-street saloon, in company with Chief Glass, at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Seven or eight detective officers and bank officials were gathered there. Donning the cast-off garments of one of the crooks he reported a lantern in his hand and crawled into the hole after Detective Auble, while Detective Steele pried the bank vaults to keep the tunnel supplied with air.

The journey was an exceedingly interesting one, from the fact that the tunnel had not yet been changed from the condition in which the crooks had left it. The tools lay where they had been left. The hydraulic jack stood by the hole, the jack containing the old steel.

The jack contains alcohol instead of water, and is almost incredible. The jack set up the hydraulic jack stood by the hole, and a board over its top. The detectives moved it for the first time in order to let the reporter crawl through into the sub-vault.

A Lawless Gang Captured and Imprisoned at Phoenix.

Bonds Refused and Warrants Selling at Half-price.

Asylum Superintendency Contest. Fruit Shipments—A Murderous Mexican—Leasing Prison Labor. Troops After Apache Kid.

PHOENIX, June 23.—(Regular Correspondence.) Philip Lashley, the colored soldier who murdered a fellow soldier at Fort Huachuca, was a day or two ago hanged. He was hanged the 31st of July at 10 o'clock. The trial was under Federal auspices, and the hanging if done, will be by the United States Marshal. The prisoner evinced no emotion on being sentenced. He has been taken to Yuma prison for safe keeping.

Seven of the Tucson crack bicyclists have entered for the race at Phoenix the Fourth of July. They had not intended going, in return for shabby patronage from Phoenix riders, but out of courtesy to W. L. Pinney, who assisted her, they will.

BISBEE.

BISBEE, June 23.—(Regular Correspondence.) A Mexican named Cruz started to murder a whole family and then skip to Mexico. He laid his plans well, even to hiding his blankets and filling his canteen. Then he began his shooting. He began on his wife, the shot missed. Then he pointed his arm to a new neighbor. The woman was shot in both thighs. This did not incapacitate her, however, for she grappled with her son-in-law and held him till an officer arrived. He has been held for the grand jury, and will not go to trial for the present.

Wednesday afternoon the United States troops crossed the line into Mexico, on an active campaign in cooperation with the Mexican troops. They are in charge of Lieuts. Leavel, of the Cavalry and about sixty scouts including White Mountains, Yumas and Papagoes. The Mexican troops are to be driven out of the country. The Apache Kid was captured and remembered, although the trail was lost. One man had matched his foot to the trail and like a gentleman's, while the other turned like an Indian's. These tracks have just been fitted to one of the gang, Will Williams. The others are unknown. The officers are anxious. The murder charge may stick, but unless it can be proven that they were seen by numerous and credible witnesses to commit the crime, that they had long previously planned it, and that there was no motive for doing it, and then say themselves they did it in all sanctity, an Arizona jury may be depended on to disagree, and after numerous futile trials and verdicts, they will be discharged. However, there are enough charges enough that can be proven against Williams and Withrow to send them a long time to Yuma.

HE, TOO, LIKES HIS JOB.

Superintendent Hamblin of the insane asylum likes his job, and in view of the fact that it pays him $200 a year and his board in addition to $500 a year board for his wife, as matron, his wife is to be blamed for killing it. It seems, however, that there are others, among them Dr. Hughes, the doctor is a good friend of the Governor's and gave him at least his moral support and probably something stronger, for the Governor himself. Now comes the Governor and tenders the asylum to the doctor. And the doctor is willing, but not so Superintendent Hamblin. The incumbent says that he proposes to keep right on supervising and doing his work, and on his own says he shall do nothing of the sort. Hamblin says he will appeal to the courts. The board have shut off his source of supplies, and say that any supplies bought, for the institution will be confiscated, and the board of the board of control will not be paid for. This places the superintendent in the uncomfortable place of buying from his privy purse or appealing promptly to the courts.

A CHINESE JOKE.

A party of threshers worked the venerable joke of holding a sack open at midnight for snipes to run into their Chinaman. The Chinaman did the usual waiting in vain, and finally turned to the joke. The next night he vowed revenge. About midnight he aroused the slumbering and weary threshers with the car-splitting racket of a Chinese gong. "Hully up, boys," he cried, "snipe all ready."

LEGISLATION OUT OF BUSINESS.

The Legislature practically ordered the cessation of business on the part of Hirschfeld & McCullough, generating electricity and transmitting it to Hirschfeld's and adjoining saloons. The electricity is generated at the old Gardiner plant, being low voltage, direct current. The Gardiner plant was abandoned last year by the opposition company, and the latter in high potential alternating currents. This necessitated the instituting of expensive new fans, and it was found cheaper to put in a small plant of the old system, and to connect the City of Los Angeles with the string of wires from the Gardiner plant to block 11 is illegal, and they have ordered down same, to be removed by the 1st of July.

THE PONDS SALE.

The spectacle of territorial warrants at half-price and in no demand, is anything but pleasant to an Arizonan. The bond sale negotiated several months ago has fallen through. It was with London parties. Seagoodson & Moyer, after a long wait, for a total of $10,000, then declined to take the bonds. The return of the $10,000 was asked of the Territory and refused. A compromise was then effected whereby the Territory will be reimbursed for all expenses incurred in getting the bonds, the balance to be returned. Another sale is being negotiated. Mr. Frost, who is managing it, is expected here next Monday, when a new deal will probably be consummated.

GRAPE SHIPMENTS.

The crop of Thompson's seedless grapes this year is large and rapidly ripening. Shippers will be begun in a few days, and by the first of July be in full sway. The product of the Adams and First ranches at Glendale, have been sold to Walter Hill of Chicago. The output of the ranch, all of which was originally for, will be from fifteen to twenty-five carloads. The prices were satisfactory. These shipments it is anticipated will be the first of consequence in the United States for this year. Apricot shipments have started and peaches are becoming plentiful.

PHOENIX BREVITIES.

G. H. Housh, superintendent of the Maricopa and Phoenix road, has resigned to accept a more important position with the Southern Pacific Company. He is succeeded by Edward Shemp. Mr. Housh has done much to popularize the Maricopa and Phoenix during his incumbency here. Mr. Housh is said to be a "man of great ability" and a good railroad man, both requiring in Phoenix with opposition lines.

There is gnashing of teeth and paying of irrigation water rentals on the part of delinquents. The City Council ordered the city janitor to shut off the irrigation water to property-owners who have not paid water rental, and there are many of them.

Tomorrow is San Juan's day, the day according to devout Mexicans that it never fails to rain. Old San Juan can boom his stock hereabouts by a good rain.

Royal apaches are now out of the market, and late varieties, prominently the Moorpark, are coming in. Peaches are in market, but they are inferior fruit.

TUCSON.

TUCSON, June 23.—(Regular Correspondence.) Philip Lashley, the colored soldier who murdered a fellow soldier at Fort Huachuca, was a day or two ago hanged. He was hanged the 31st of July at 10 o'clock. The trial was under Federal auspices, and the hanging if done, will be by the United States Marshal. The prisoner evinced no emotion on being sentenced. He has been taken to Yuma prison for safe keeping.

DUNHAM NON EST.

The Sheriff's Officers Had a Vain Search.

Saw Much of Kern County, but no Murderer.

Hunters of the Friend Gave Up the Chase and Returned to Los Angeles—Some Details of the Trip.

When the Southern Pacific train from the North rolled into the Commercial-street depot early yesterday morning a little party of roughly-clad, sunburned and bearded men stepped from one of the forward coaches and vanished their way up town to the Sheriff's office.

Each man carried a roll of blankets or a Winchester rifle and it was not a difficult matter for even the most casual observer to tell that it was Sheriff John Burr and his posse, who had been scouring the Sierra Nevada Mountains for Murderer James Dunham. Ever since early last Sunday morning the officers and their reporter had been on the trail of the hardest Jants that has ever been taken, and it was no fault of theirs that Dunham was not caught up with, for every clue was indefinitely run down.

Over mountainous roads and up trails which even the hardest mountainer would be afraid to climb, the party had been to the stony little mountain passes where the horses were unable to carry their load and every member of the party is, in consequence, footsore and weary.

As it is already known, Sheriff Burr and his reporter had been scouring the mountains for the Apache Kid.

Wednesday afternoon the United States troops crossed the line into Mexico, on an active campaign in cooperation with the Mexican troops.

of the Cavalry and about sixty scouts including White Mountains, Yumas and Papagoes.

The Mexican troops are to be driven out of the country. The Apache Kid was captured and remembered, although the trail was lost. One man had matched his foot to the trail and like a gentleman's, while the other turned like an Indian's. These tracks have just been fitted to one of the gang, Will Williams. The others are unknown.

Court Order in the San Gabriel Water Contest.

Expert Lewis Given Another Hearing for Salary.

The Board of Health Reports Clean Reservoirs, but Much Trouble in Pipes—Park Commissioners Request Funds for Improvements.

At the City Hall yesterday there was a meeting of the Park Commissioners and of the Sewer Committee. The Board of Health reported unofficially, that the city reservoirs were in good condition but that the water-pipes needed cleaning out. The Board of Public Works inspected the garbage incinerator.

At the Courthouse yesterday an important order was made in the suit at the Agricultural Ditch and Water Company against L. W. Houghton and others, for the use of the water of the San Gabriel River. Judge Yorkley had denied the motion of F. G. and F. A. Fay for a new trial in the suit of S. K. Lindley for commission on a Broadway real estate sale, T. A. Lewis, the expert of the State Board of Examiners is to have another chance for his salary, the Supreme Court having granted a rehearing. The Gas Consumers' Protective Association has filed a motion for $25,000 damages in its answer and cross-complaint to the suit of the Los Angeles Lighting Company for $25,000 damages in its answer and cross-complaint to the suit of the Gas Consumers' Protective Association. Three new citizens were admitted, and two divorces granted. Judge Yorkley was entered for defendant in the suit of Maxson against Canavan and others for the transfer of 500 shares of stock.

CLEAN RESERVOIRS.

BOARD OF HEALTH LOCATES TROUBLE IN THE PIPES.

Fish Swim in and Die—Formation of Green Scum—Pipes to Be Taken Up and the Bellevue Reservoirs Repaired.

No official report has yet been made by the Board of Health during its tour of the reservoirs on Wednesday afternoon, but it is informally stated that everything is in good shape, so far as the reservoirs are concerned. The only exception is the new Bellevue reservoir, in which the pipe-screens are defective, allowing fish and other foreign substances to get into the pipes. These reservoirs will receive new set next week and an entire new set of screens put over the openings in the pipes.

It is the opinion of the investigators that the water is all right until it gets into the pipes, where the green scum gathers in spite of all efforts to keep it out. Another difficulty is the presence of the larvae of fish in the pipes until they grow up, and the trouble comes when they are inconsiderate enough to die and resolve themselves into a powerful flavor for the city drinking water.

It may be undesirable that the city water should be in the mountains, and the product of undriven snow, filtering through sand until it reaches the reservoirs, but if fish are allowed to inhabit those reservoirs and turn the city pipes into piscator's catfish, the trouble will be simple, microbe soup by the time it reaches the faucets and hydrants with its accumulated burdens of decomposed matter. If the reservoirs are in good order, and the water pure when it reaches the pipes, the scum may be able to be removed by periodical cleaning of those pipes and the removal of fish, moss, scum and other chance debris that may find lodgment and a chance to breed fever germs in those dark tunnels. There is a present prospect that this will be done, and that of pipes will be ordered to be taken up and cleaned out.

PARK COMMISSIONERS.

Necessary Improvements Will Be Made in the City Parks.

At the meeting of the Park Commissioners yesterday, it was decided to make the much-needed improvements in the city parks; in a fashion substantial enough to last for some time, even if it costs more than in previous years.

Secretary Mendenhall submitted the estimates of the department for the ensuing fiscal year. The sum of $35,000 will be asked from the Council for park improvements, and the estimated cost for the year was $40,000. Among the funds for Westlake will be enough to improve the new Sunset Park recently dedicated to the city.

Among the other improvements contemplated by the board are a new stand for East Side Park, a footbridge for Hollenbeck Park, and a system of plunge baths for Echo Park.

The board yesterday let a two-year contract for the boardwalk privileges of Echo Park, and modified the plan of the department for the current month. There is a scarcity of water in Echo Park lake, and Councilman M. P. Snyder will be asked to remedy the existing evil. Superintendent Garey reported that the project of the board had been made with Westlake, which abates a nuisance long complained of.

A LONG CONTRACT.

Main-Street Residents Still Waiting for Paving.

Time goes on, and still the famous main-street paving contract slumbers like the useful dead. It stirred and yawned a few months ago, galvanized into temporary life by the decision of the Supreme Court which held that the street law was valid, but the petition for a rehearing had a soporific effect, and it merely turned over and went to sleep again, until such time as the rehearing should be decided, and the main-street finally awoke.

In the meantime Main street is torn up for two miles or more, the sidewalk on both sides being barricaded with ramparts of paving granite, and the street itself looking as though it had been toyed with by a healthy and playful cyclone.

The residents are kicking vigorously. A few days ago some grumbler blessed with a dash of humor erected two pillars of stone, the pillars of stone, each bearing the legend: "In memory of the City Council and its contract." People read and laughed, but the hit was too sharp, and one of the small monitors turned torn.

Nothing daunted the people whose doorsteps are blocked up by the chunks of stone are preparing a new "grind" to be used in the Fourth of July parades. A large sign in the shape of a grind will be carried in state, and when it will appear in the streets, the legend will appear: "A long contract. A man named Long has got it, and it will be a long time before it is done."

The contract will expire January 11, 1897, but there is still some time left. At present one man is working leisurely along under one boss, doing just enough work to hold the contract.

The entire contract is for $140,000, and the contractors, John H. Young & Co., are under $30,000 bond, the bondsmen being S. H. Mott and Judge R. M. Widney.

THE SEWER COMMITTEE.

A NUMBER OF RECOMMENDATIONS MADE YESTERDAY.

The Sewer Committee met in regular session yesterday, and made a number of recommendations to the City Council, urging the adoption of measures necessary to keep the city sewerage all taut and trim, and the deadly typhoid at bay.

Mrs. Hayes, who have been the occupants of J. D. Lincoln's house for several months, left, today for San Francisco, where they will spend the summer, and may locate permanently in the North.

Well & Wagner's delivery team ran away this morning on West Colorado street, breaking the wagon and severely bruising Frank Handelman, the driver, who was thrown out and suffered an injury to his hip, besides minor contusions.

Crew reports that his harness was stolen Wednesday night from his barn at the corner of Villa Street and Molino avenue. The thieves have evidently changed the base of their operations, as the thefts before reported have been mainly in the south and east part of town.

The Oakland avenue "line" consists of Allen Jones, John Shemmon, Will Rowan, Walter Pennell, Ernest Baldridge, Jacob Helmke and William Brown "did" the Azusa boys Wednesday after a hard battle, the score being seven to six, and the playing the genuine American sort of baseball.

Mr. Holbrook's delivery horse ran away on Fair Oaks avenue this morning, and the courage and presence of mind of a stranger who was driving down the street saved it and the wagon from being broken. The stranger, running directly toward him, the man turned across their path, flung the lines to another man who was sitting beside him, and caught the runaway horse before it could turn or collide with his horse.

Miss Alberta Newby and Miss Callie Silver were happily surprised by about forty of their young friends Wednesday evening at the residence of Henry Newby on North Marengo avenue. Both young ladies will leave for the East in a few days, and they were in the full enjoyment of the evening, the cards and music were the features of the evening, and as souvenirs of the occasion the young ladies were each presented with a carved Mexican leather purse, case, bearing their monogram in silver.

The grading, curbing and guttering of Union street is progressing rapidly. The curb and gutter are completed on the south side of the street, and the sidewalks are laid, and are being kept "we down" and "we up," with the work while the work on the other side of the street is being done. Union street is coming to the front, and with the new asphaltum pavement between Raymond and Fair Oaks, and a fine street to the rear, a new business locality is being opened up. The Tonneson building, at the corner of Union and Raymond is being pushed forward, and the outer walls on three sides are well on toward the second story.

GOLDEN WEDDING.

Celebrating a Pleasant Anniversary of Marriage.

Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Hill of No. 340 Kensington Place, celebrated today the fiftieth anniversary of their wedding, receiving the informal congratulations of their friends during the day, and many valuable souvenirs, and in the evening formally entertaining. The rooms were beautifully decorated with flowers and foliage, and the date of their marriage, 1846 and 1896, were inscribed in golden letters on the wall of the parlor.

Mr. and Mrs. Hill were married in the city of Toronto fifty years ago to-day, and for more than a quarter of a century the city was Mr. Hill's home. Mr. and Mrs. Hill have lived in Cleveland many years, and have been residents of Pasadena for the past eight years. Both are pictures of pale old age, and go down the western aisle of life with the light of the love of their century still bright on their heads, and blessed with the affection of a large circle of friends east and west. Many of these friends gathered at the home of the bride and groom of fifty years today, to wish them a "happy ever-time of life, a sweet rest and a glorious morning."

ARRANGEMENTS COMPLETED.

The Electric Railway Company Comes to Taw.

After almost a year's delay, the electric company has complied with the mandate of the City Council for the provision for public safety on the Columbia-street extension, and has purchased from Willard Thompson a strip of land three feet wide which will allow of an arrangement for public travel with complete safety.

Whether this land will be held by the electric company, and the Santa Fe, who are the joint purchasers, or whether it will be dedicated to the city as a street, in the place of the one which is a concession cannot be learned, but there is a committee now, that the Council should either insist on such dedication, or on the order for the removal of the tracks from the street.

Pasadena has had trouble in time past with streets not properly dedicated, and the rights of the public on the street in question have been so flagrantly disregarded in times past, that those who drive over that portion of the highway would be glad to see matters indisputably settled for the future.

Here is Another.

John Rourke, a tramp who slept in the City Jail last night, told to the officers a long story about having camped for four days with Dunham, the San Jose murderer, and that he had known him well in San Jose. He related how he had traveled for forty-eight hours without food or rest, in order to get to Pasadena to secure a weapon to kill Dunham. He had 55 cents, a revolver, and offered to go alone and kill his man. So far no one has satisfied Rourke's yearning desire, and Rourke's story is regarded as of that sort known to the profession as "an unvarnished lie."

Took Poison.

A. H. Macomber, a painter living on Illinois street, near Lake, took a heavy dose of morphine Wednesday evening, with the intent to end his life. He had been drinking heavily, and first intended to attempt suicide with a pistol, but the ammunition not being at hand, chose morphine instead, having that in the house in the form of medicine for pain. He was under the influence of liquor at the time, and was rescued with the greatest difficulty, from death by Dr. Blackford, and was on the street this morning.

GOLD AND SILVER. Some interesting information in regard to the status of the financial question in England was recently given to the Call by H. B. Bellot, a university lecturer of Oxford, Eng., who is visiting the country. The Society for the Extension of University Teaching, Mr. Bellot is a strong monetarist. He admits that in England the opinions are about equally divided as to whether or not gold has an appreciation in the value of gold. He believes that it would be possible by international agreement to introduce the double standard again, and says it is extremely difficult to ascertain what the rate of revaluation of silver would be given. He cannot call to mind any person of standing who dreams of putting it as high as 16 to 1 in regard to the prevailing sentiment in England on the subject of bimetallism.

There are three very important classes of people in England that are in favor of the bimetallic understanding: One—the agricultural interest, because their trade with India suffers from the uncertainty of exchange, and especially from the competition of the Indian, which paid a premium in India in India. Three—As a class all those who are engaged in governing India—civil service officers, soldiers and others; these men have their own views of the silver standard which is in injustice to the silver.

The Lancashire cotton spinners, because their trade with India suffers from the uncertainty of exchange, and especially from the competition of the Indian, which paid a premium in India in India. Three—As a class all those who are engaged in governing India—civil service officers, soldiers and others; these men have their own views of the silver standard which is in injustice to the silver.

ORANGE COUNTY.

CITY CLERK TEDFORD'S VALUABLE FIGURES ON WATERWORKS.

Shows the Advantages of Municipal Ownership Over Private Control. Manuel Manzo's Brother Arrested and Taken to San Diego.

SANTA ANA, June 25.—(Regular Correspondence.) In order that facts may be known regarding the municipal ownership of the city water works in Santa Ana, City Clerk Tedford has prepared a statement for publication, which is desired by the city government, to have the widest possible circulation, and therefore The Times is requested to give space to all or a part of it. The statement is too long to be given in full, but herewith are the main parts which are brought out for the enlightenment and consideration of the voting public:

"In order to give a comprehensive idea of the advantages derived from the present system, it will be necessary to show, first by actual comparison, the difference in cost to consumers and taxpayers under private and municipal control, and from this parallel readers may make their own deductions:

"During six months of the year the city uses 130,000 gallons of water per day on the streets, and for two months of the year, 60,000 gallons per day are used for the same purpose. At 20 cents per thousand gallons, the lowest price offered by any private corporation in an application for a franchise, the street-sprinkling item alone would in a year amount to $4650, or $35 per day, while the water is used. The city has fifty fire hydrants, which, according to bids made by private parties in 1889, would cost $50 each per year, or $2500 for the whole number. In addition, twenty-five more hydrants are maintained, which if paid for at the rate named in the same bid, for each hydrant additional to fifty, would cost $50 each, or a total of $750.

"These figures are more conveniently stated in the following table:

STREET-SPRINKLING.
130,000 gallons per day for six months	$4650
60,000 gallons per day for two months	1,200
Total	$4750

FIRE HYDRANTS.

50 hydrants at $50 each	$2500
25 hydrants at $50 each	1,250

Grand total $7500

"This $7500 represents an outlay which would be absolutely necessary under private ownership; is not it 'unwise' which would be to disown the service of the greatest, broad-minded and far-sighted men, and therefore, being actually saved, it must be considered as a part of the receipts of the city water system?

"The following renders a correct account of the receipts and expenditures of the city water works for the past year, including the annual bond payment of $3000, which at the end of twenty years will cease, as will also the item of interest:

RECEIPTS.
Water pipe	13.12
Water pump	55.00
Water fines	5.00
Water	7,080.75
Taps and extensions	43.00
Total	8,081.75

EXPENDITURES.

Engineers at power-house	1,561.75
Taps and extensions	1,550.00
Fuel oil	2,273.55
Interest on water works bonds	2,883.35
Water works bonds Note	14
Interest and 15	3,000.00
Oil and bushing	99.55
Machine work	43.00
Cleaning reservoir	13.35
Total	11,480.05

"From this statement it will be seen that the city lags but $3000.17 of paying running expenses. Interest on bonds and $3000 annually on the indebtedness incurred for its construction. Adding to the receipts the $7500 saved on street-sprinkling, the income to date on water works bonds, $4650.25, which from a purely business point of view, is the present net income of the water works. With each year this sum will increase by reason of a corresponding decrease in interest on bonds. An other $1000 will be derived from which should be taken account in summing up the benefits accruing from corporate control is the immense reduction in the rate at which water is supplied to consumers. The lowest water rate proposed by any private corporation in the city, contemplated giving a franchise for a system of water supply, about seven years ago, was from 1 to 5 cents per hundred gallons—and if the rapacious methods of a great majority of corporations had ruled in this instance, it would be safe to say the limit would have been charged. In any event, the charge would certainly have been as high as 4 cents on an average, and it will be fair to assume that this figure serves as the basis for hypothetical calculations. During the first year, as much as 100,000 gallons of water had been used for garden-sprinkling. This shows an average consumption of 333 gallons per day for each of the 600 consumers, and at a cents per hundred gallons, would pay a sum in excess of $7000.75 to consumers—an amount $4650.75 in excess of the amount paid to the city on bonds the first year after the works were constructed. And this without reference to the additional amount saved on street-sprinkling. It is fair to also consider the reduction in fire-insurance rates which immediately followed the completion of the water works.

"And while speaking of the extent of the sprinkling service, it is well to say that the city is now advertising for a space of miles that another sprinkling company will be engaged in the work of the sprinkling of about ten more miles of streets, and with this service it is expected the outlying district will be amply provided for.

"The other municipal ownership in Santa Ana has been a blight which cannot be disguised by the expert jingle in mathematics now arrayed in opposition.

"The service is better, the water is purer, and the cost is lower than could possibly be the case if the people were supplied by a private corporation.

"ED TEDFORD, City Clerk."

LOUIS MANZO ARRESTED.

Louis Manzo, brother of Manuel Manzo of Santa Ana was arrested Wednesday evening by Sheriff Nichols on a charge of robbery. Wilson, of San Diego, is wanted for embezzlement. Wilson came up to Santa Ana Thursday and took Manzo back to San Diego with him. The prisoner seems to be of rather bad family. He is said to be under arrest here for assault and subsequent robbery of a Chinese vegetable vendor near Tustin.

ORANGE COUNTY BREVITIES.

A fine team of bay horses owned by C. F. Mansur of the Savings Bank and driven to Menifee's tavern wagon took a brief spin around the Brunelton corral, and with a driver and a driver in front of a cigar store there collided with a cart belonging to J. M. More, which was standing at the curb. At that juncture one of the runaways slipped and fell, and the team stopped before they could again get up speed. The cart was badly broken. But little other damage was done.

The expense of water alone for street sprinkling in Santa Ana would be $375 per month, instead of $370, as indicated in Thursday's Times, if the water was being paid for at 20 cents per 1000 gallons; the lowest offer the city had made them by private parties on the road he had built. He was later employed as a miner, but of late has been out of employment, and despondency over his future is thought to be the cause of the dead.

Winfield was 45 year old, and a native of England, well educated and of gentlemanly bearing.

HORTICULTURAL COMMISSION.

Still there is a phase of the Horticultural Commission muddle unsettled. When Dr. Pierson went out of office he was custodian of certain parliamentary documents, and he has not yet paid it back to the Council, and has decided to confer with their attorneys in reference to the matter.

The Anaheim Union Water Company has obtained a franchise over certain streets in the town of Anaheim for a right-of-way for street-sprinkling purposes.

Examinations for teacher certificates are now in progress in this county.

Winfield was an attorney who had been engaged in the case, and the defense started in the afternoon with their wife.

It appears now that the franchise for the water-works at Orange is not transmissible, and as the works have been sold to George E. Love by E. A. Honey, the city Council has decided to confer with their attorneys in reference to the matter.

It appears now that the franchise for the water-works at Orange is not transmissible, and as the works have been sold to George E. Love by E. A. Honey, the city Council has decided to confer with their attorneys in reference to the matter.

The Anaheim Union Water Company has obtained a franchise over certain streets in the town of Anaheim for a right-of-way for street-sprinkling purposes.

HOUSE AND LOT.

Boyle Heights and the New Electric Line.

Active Demand for Small Improved Places.

Central Avenue—Irrigated by Electricity—Sherman—East Los Angeles—Business Architecture. Taxes and Real Estate.

Dealers still complain of dull business in the real estate market, although quite a number of small sales are being made from week to week. The sale of a Spring-street property is expected to be closed today, but not in time to give particulars in this issue.

THAT BOYLE HEIGHTS RAILWAY.

Residents on Boyle Heights have been counting for some months on the early construction of an electric street-car line across the river, and property in that section has held very firmly, in consequence. After a long series of delays on part of the Council, three bids were put in a week ago, the highest of which was accepted. It is now stated that in spite of this there is no intention on part of the successful bidder to construct the road. W. H. Workman, who applied for the franchise on behalf of the Traction Company, who were to construct the line, states that at the last moment that company backed out because the City Council insisted on a clause in the franchise making it compulsory to commence work at the Boyle Heights end of the line. This was just before the time came to put in bids. Mr. Workman, however, put in a bid on his own account and was surprised to find that two other bids had been submitted, for larger amounts than he offered. It is claimed that these bids are from the Consolidated and Pasadena Electric companies and Mr. Workman asserts that the object of these companies in making the bids is not for the purpose of constructing the line, but for the franchise for eighteen months, which a company has the power to do under the present most unreasonable State law, which only requires work to be commenced within six months and completed within eighteen months.

The time for the digging of the excavation of a few shovels of earth is the beginning of work in the eyes of the law, so that any street-car company with sufficient influence can block progress by getting a franchise and holding it for a year or two.

It is the general opinion of taxpayers that some equivalent should be demanded by the city for street railway franchises, in the shape of a percentage of the gross receipts, or otherwise.

Should the decision of an eastern court refer to the facts, then the effect that city governments have no right to grant absolute franchises over the public streets for a long term of years will cause quite a shaking up among some of the lines on this Coast.

Meanwhile Mr. Workman states that if he cannot get a line over to Boyle Heights by this route he will go before the City Council and apply for a franchise across the First-street bridge under the State law which permits street-cars to run on the tracks of existing companies for a distance of five continuous blocks.

Residents on Boyle Heights are hoping that some means will be found to furnish them with street-railway competition, and which further, if any, Boyle Heights is now about the only important section of the city that has to depend for transportation on a single line of street railway.

CENTRAL AVENUE.

The San Francisco papers continue to make loud complaint about the heaviness of the tax rate in that city, and the depressing effect which such high taxes have on real estate values.

Real estate agents in San Francisco report that business, which improved a little at the beginning of this year, has been falling off, and they attribute the prospect of still higher tax levels. The Examiner recently had the following on this subject:

"There is a point beyond which an honest tax upon property is injurious. The property owner, in this case, receives a benefit from taxes in the protection of improvements against fire, in good sanitation from efficient sewerage, and in smooth and durable pavements. Even in that view of the case, property will not stand taxation beyond a certain limit. When the tax is imposed and nothing like sufficient equivalent is given in return, the tax is directly destructive of property."

EAST LOS ANGELES.

One of the sections of the city that has been suffering from depression during the last few years is East Los Angeles.

Of late there has been quite an improvement in the demand for property out that way, owing chiefly to the improved street-car facilities that are now enjoyed.

"When the law becomes effective in Ohio it will be optional with all the owners of land and representatives of property to make application for registration of title. The application must be made to the Probate of Common Pleas Court.

The law gives the court ample time for investigation, and upon satisfactory evidence a proper certificate is issued. The recorder must register the title, when certified by the court, and issue the proper certificates.

Corporations must give names of officers. Executors and administrators have rules laid down for them. All transfers made to the recorder, or to the recorder, at death, lands subject to the personal representative of the estate, who may have the land registered and certificates obtained for the heirs.

Land bought under this act to pay 10% a year on the value of the land.

This provides for an accurate record.

Information is made for reimbursements.

The fees under the new system are very reasonable.

"In closing Mr. Harrison said:

"The fees are to be paid to the recorder, not less than $5, no more than $50, and such other fees on filing the application and to the recorder from 2 cents to $2 for each paper or item of service rendered.

The recorder is to be paid a fee for the filing of registered land documents, and for the filing of all papers therein, entering memorials, issuing new certificates of title and indexing, same.

The fee of the recorder is $1.00.
